Why Most Blogs Fail

- Focus too much on keywords, not depth
- Skimming the surface instead of deep insights
- No unique case studies, data, or real-world examples
- Ignoring Google's E-E-A-T (Experience, Expertise, Authority, Trust)
- Publishing frequently but without substance

Step 1 – Audit Your Top 10 Posts

◆ Use Google Search Console & Semrush/Ahrefs to find:

- ✓ Pages with declining clicks in AI overviews
- ✓ Low dwell time (<30s on-page) → Indicates low engagement
- ✓ High bounce rate (>80%) → Content isn't meeting intent
- ✓ Featured Snippet Loss → Check if AI-generated responses are replacing your content

💡 NEW in 2025:

- AI Overviews are taking up more space in search results. If your content doesn't provide clear, structured answers, it won't get featured.
- Use AI content analysis tools like Surfer SEO or Frase to check missing depth & NLP (Natural Language Processing) keywords.

Diagnose Underperforming Blogs

✓ Identify Declining Posts

- Go to Google Search Console → Performance → Pages
- Find posts with declining traffic & low CTR (<2%)
- Look for high bounce rate & low time on page in Google Analytics

✓ Check Keyword Performance

Search for your target keyword in Google

If competitors rank higher, analyze why: Content depth? Links? User engagement?

Use Ahrefs/Semrush to check keyword difficulty & missing topics

✓ Thin Content Check

Posts under 1,000 words? Likely not ranking

Does the post provide unique insights or just reworded info?

✓ Technical Health

Mobile-friendly? (Test in Google Mobile-Friendly Tool)

Fast loading? (Check Core Web Vitals in Google PageSpeed Insights)

Indexing issues? (Google Search Console → Indexing → Pages)
